

"Benedictus Dominus Deus Israel," it was intoned into the stone sarcophagus above the door, where it will remain until the funeral of the late pontiff, which will be held in the basilica of St. John Lateran, which was chosen by the Pope himself as his final resting place.

Thus was Pope Leo XIII. consigned to his long rest.

Color and life were given to the whole scene by gendarmes and Palatine and Noble Guards. The last named have never left the remains since the Pope died.

Above the cardinals, behind a grating were the ladies of the aristocracy and the family of the Pope.

The diplomatic body was also present, as were many men of the Italian aristocracy, led by Prince Massimo, who claims descent from Quintus Fabius Maximus, in his uniform of general, postmaster-general, general of the papal army, the oldest veteran of the papal army, who fought as commander of the Zouaves against the Italians in 1870, was also among those who attended the ceremony.

WORLD'S FAREWELL

Lying in State Ended Quietly at Noon.

(By Associated Press.)

ROME, July 25.—On the stroke of midday, as the noon gun from the Castle of St. Angelo was fired, the lying in state of the body of Pope Leo XIII. came quietly to an end, and those few who still lingered at the gates of the chapel of the Sacrament in St. Peter's were ordered to leave, and some two or three hundred persons, including Cardinal Goossens, who arrived from Mechlin just in time, passed slowly out of St. Peter's into the sunlit piazza, and the world's last farewell to the great Pope was over. Ten minutes later Italian infantry and gendarmes passed out of the Basilica and lined up on the steps in imposing array. The outer gates were then closed, and the body of the late Pope was left to the tender care of those who had watched by Leo XIII. in his lifetime. The preparations for this evening's interment were immediately commenced.

While the bells of the Basilica rang out their daily melodious noon chorus, the troops formed in column and were marched to the barracks. Their historic incursion into Vatican territory ended without the slightest friction.

It is estimated that 50,000 people passed the catafalque since Thursday morning. The last funeral mass in St. Peter's was celebrated this morning in the chapel of the choir by Monsignor Panley, canon of the Vatican Basilica. At the same time funeral masses were celebrated in most of the churches of Rome.

GORGEOUS COLORS

The most imposing ceremony to-day was the reception by the sacred college, in the hall of the consistory, of the whole diplomatic body accredited to the Vatican. All the diplomats were gorgeously uniformed, and the cardinals had on their magnificent toilet robes and were seated in huge arm chairs, according to right of precedence. The Portuguese Ambassador, M. Martin D'Antas, dean of the diplomatic corps, was at the head of the body. He advanced and delivered an address in French expressing the sorrow of all the Powers at the death of Pope Leo, who had acquired the universal esteem of the world.

Cardinal Oreglia, dean of the College of Cardinals, rose and answered in Italian. He thanked the diplomats in the name of the Sacred College for the part all the governments had taken in this mourning of the church. He eulogized Pope Leo and his work during his long pontificate and ended with expressing the hope that God would suggest to the Sacred College a worthy successor to Leo XIII.

After this the members of the diplomatic body kissed the hands of all the cardinals, and especially continued the Cardinal Oreglia, who said that he had expressed and which produced the best of impressions.

RING LOST

When time came to take the fisherman's ring from Pope Leo's finger, it was found developed another was found in its place. This did not surprise any one, as, generally, the pontiff does not wear it, the ring being less of an ornament than an unused seal. At the first moment of the congregation of cardinals after the Pope's death, when the famous ring should have been broken, this ceremony was omitted, and it was put on record that the ring, for the moment, could not be found.

The fisherman's ring is known to have been lost twice before.

On two other occasions the ring was taken from the papacy by force. In 1707 the French Republicans, who had seized the papal States, despoiled Pius VI. of all his trappings, and among them of the fisherman's ring. It was returned the next day, as it had no intrinsic value. When Pius VII. was kidnapped in the middle of the night, the ring was made to give up his ring, the Pope gave it up after breaking it in two pieces, which were kept in Paris until returned to Rome by Louis XVIII.

Mrs. Farabelli, the famous Latin scholar, who was the "Gloria Brevis" (or Latin eulogy) of the late pontiff, which will be buried with him, the congregation of cardinals to-day selected Father De Angelis to undertake that duty.

Being unable to accept the task of writing the eulogy, he was appointed to write the funeral oration.

FOUR PRISONERS ESCAPE

One Charged With Attempted Arson and Others With Larceny.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LEXINGTON, N. C., July 25.—Four prisoners broke jail here last night and escaped. Two of them, Burwell Holland and Glas Oaks, are white, and the others, John Barber and Henry Thompson, are colored. Holland, who is a boy about fourteen years of age, is charged with making an unsuccessful effort to burn a business block in the center of the city. The others are charged with larceny.

The officers are making efforts to recapture them, but there is no information to the direction they took. It is said they were liberated by a party from the outside.

The Atlas Table Company started up this morning and the Onida Chair Company will begin work in a few days.

Requiem High Mass.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—A high requiem mass was sung at St. Matthew's church to-day in memory of Pope Leo XIII. Monsignor F. J. McGarry, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, presided and pronounced the absolution. Rev. Father Mackin, pastor of St. Paul's church, celebrated the mass. The service was attended by many members of the corps.

HILLSMAN WINS OUT

Fine Shooting at East End Gun Club.

RACE FOR WEEKLY MEDALS

Largest Crowd of the Season Present to Witness the Shoot—An Account of the Northside Shoot—Large Turnout is Expected.

The largest crowd of the season was present at the regular shoot of the East End Gun Club yesterday evening. Visitors from a distance as well as from other clubs took part in breaking clay saucers, and as the day was bright some excellent scores were made.

The race for the weekly medal and the Hunter Arms Co. medal was close between Anderson and Dr. Hillsman, each breaking 25 out of the first 25. Anderson on the second string was leading until he dropped his forty-fifth bird and lost to Hillsman.

Dr. Hillsman would have been greatly in evidence in the contest for the Harris, Filippin & Co. medal, but was forced to leave the grounds before the match took place in order to catch the early out-of-town train. The boys were sorry to see him leave.

In the first string of 25 they were well bunched. Anderson, Brown and Filippin each having 22 to their credit and it was thought that as Filippin was back in his old-time form, he would win out, but "Brown" was the game to stick to.

He was tired of losing the medal by only one bird and settled down to "do or die," and as he centered target after target, it seemed to take the vim out of Filippin and Anderson, so he won out hands down, and was compelled to do his hat amid the applause of his many friends.

COMING TOURNAMENT

All arrangements for the big tournament on August 15th have been perfected and it is safe to say never in the history of any one-day tournament has such an attractive programme been offered to lovers of the "scatter gun."

Probably the greatest crack who lives is the shooting crack, so in order to please the most fastidious crack, the programme committee have arranged to have both kinds of divisions of prizes—High Gun and Class Shooting.

Another attractive feature is the added money of $20 included in the merchandise prizes, with no extra charge for entering, but the regular 2 cents per target.

Such well-known expert shots as E. H. Storr, J. Mowell, Hawkins, L. D. Thomas, of Baltimore; and Edward Banks, T. H. Keller, J. E. Avery, A. C. Barrell and C. Van Inwagen, of New York; Irbey Bennett, of New Haven, Conn.; and H. K. Hylson, of Virginia, have already entered.

The different clubs of the State will send large delegations especially Staunton, Waynesboro, Charlottesville, Blackstone and Lynchburg. It is expected that over a hundred shooters will be present. The first single trigger gun and the only one in Richmond was in the hands of Mr. Smith, the owner of it at yesterday's shoot. The gun is new to its owner, but in one event it was pointed well as Mr. Smith broke 13 targets out of 20. This is an excellent score made by one who has but one arm.

Northside School.

A small gathering of shooters faced the Northside traps yesterday, but there was plenty of grit and enthusiasm backing them.

The East End had their shoot for the Peter's medal, and part of the Northside Club were there.

Mr. Bruce McLelland was high gun, breaking a straight of thirty-one birds. Brauer won the Robin Hood medal, and dropped his hat between him and McLelland for high gun.

Next Saturday the Northside hopes to have the largest shoot they have had this season, and on August 15th, it is rumored that this club will send a warm squad to East End to do their hat out-of-town train. The boys were sorry to see him leave.

A nice prize donated by a friend of the club for high gun went to McLelland. A new member joined the club to-day, Mr. Wright.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 25.—W. H. Wells, chief engineer of construction of the Southern Railway, to-day said that work had begun thirty miles south of this city on the construction of the Rabun Gap extension of the Southern to the Georgia line and that in North Carolina a new company has been chartered, which is building toward the Tennessee line to Wallahalla branch of the Southern to connect with the Rabun Gap line.
